ATTIC: Combatting COVID-19 A National Effort

The Association of Trinidad and Tobago Insurance Companies (ATTIC) fully supports the measures being taken by the Government of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago to mitigate the COVID-19 pandemic which threatens our nation and the world. We stand with the Government in urging all citizens to fully comply with the guidance of the authorities to ensure minimal impact to our collective health, livelihood and well-being. These are challenging times which will test our resolve and resilience; the Insurance Industry stands in partnership with our Government, health authorities, our policyholders and other stakeholders to lessen the economic challenges which our nation faces, as we work to eventually return to a path of institutional and national economic health.

The members of the Insurance Industry have implemented various “social distancing” measures to combat this virus, including policy renewals via the internet, and other media, automatic renewals, and drop off services to ensure the continued servicing of our policyholders. Please contact your respective insurer or visit them online to obtain specific guidance on measures they have put in place for your safety and to ensure seamless customer care. We urge those policyholders and other customers who may be experiencing financial challenges to contact your respective insurer or Agent to discuss how they can facilitate easement.

If, for some reason you are unable to complete transactions online or via telephone, and must visit your insurer or Agent, you are assured that our members have the following precautions in place:

1. Daily sanitisation of their premises.
2. Hand sanitiser dispensers are available at all reception areas and on all desks.

Again, we encourage every citizen to diligently observe all advisories by the relevant authorities to prevent this virulent and insidious disease from spreading.

Let us protect each other, our loved ones and Trinidad and Tobago. This is not a drill.
